Mushroom Hike

We are very excited that you have decided to join us on this unique hike through the enchanted San Pedro Forest. Due to recent closures we may have to switch locations. This may lead us into the Carson national Forest. On this adventure you will be in search of the delicate and delicious wild Chanterelle Mushroom. These mushrooms have been well known for their nutty and often robust flavor. However you never know what you will find! Last years hike proved to be a “bolete” explosion!

We will be departing from the south side of Johnson Center (near the pine trees) promptly at 8:00am on Saturday, August 10th. We should be arriving at the base of the trail in the San Pedro Forest at approximately 10:30am. This is a moderate hike with some elevation gain, hiking to an elevation of 8,500 with an elevation gain of 800 – 1000 feet. The hike is approximately 2 miles round trip.

Participants should bring the following:

- Good hiking shoes
- Windbreaker/waterproof poncho
- Warm layer
- Sack lunch
- Hat/sunglasses
- Day pack
- Water!!!!!!
- Optional: Sunglasses, sunscreen, camera, binoculars
- Paper bag/not plastic for your mushrooms
- Pocket knife to dig mushrooms out

Our estimated return time to Albuquerque will be at 5:00pm. We look forward to meeting you on Saturday, August 10th. If you have any questions please feel free to email me at lmont@unm.edu or call me at 277-0178.

NOTE: LOCATION, DEPARTURE AND ARRIVAL TIMES ARE SUBJECT TO CHANGE. IF THIS OCCURS YOU WILL BE NOTIFED PRIOR TO THE TRIP. STAY TUNED TO YOUR EMAIL!

Sincerely,

Laura Montoya
